NEW EXHIBIT CONTAINING MATERIAL FROM A PREVIOUS WINNING EXHIBIT

An exhibit that has won the best-of-show award or that has won two first place awards (even in different classes) at an ANA World's Fair of Money® convention may not be entered again in competition except in the Emeritus class. A new exhibit, using the same numismatic material as was used in the above mentioned winning exhibits, may be entered in competition if the exhibitor can satisfy to the ANA that the exhibit has completely changed in nature.

If you wish to enter an exhibit that contains numismatic material from a previous winning exhibit into a competitive class, use the space below to provide detailed inventories of the previously winning exhibit and the present exhibit as well as an explanation of how the present exhibit's presentation differs from that of earlier exhibits. Attach additional sheets if necessary.

This information will be reviewed by the ANA national exhibits coordinator and the ANA exhibit committee chair, who will decide whether to accept the present application. You will be notified in writing of the decision. Should the eligibility of your exhibit come under question during its set-up at the convention, the chief judge, the assistant chief judge, or the exhibits committee chairman may reevaluate your exhibit and make a ruling on your eligibility to compete.

By my signature below I submit this application for review by the ANA and I understand that the ANA’s decision regarding the eligibility of this exhibit is final.
