

Greetings to all Young Numismatists of the ANA!

The ANA has had a long tradition of holding an auction at the World's Fair of Money just for YN's. While a good time has been had by all, the one major drawback is that only YN's who attended the shows have been able to participate. This year, the ANA is going to try something a little different. Instead of holding an auction at the show, we are going to hold an Online Auction for Young Numismatists in September. The advantage to this is that all ANA YN's from all across the country will be able to participate.

Here are answers to questions you may have:

- When will the auction take place?

The auction will be held on Saturday, September 19, 2015. The auction will begin at 10 AM Mountain Time. (12 PM on the east coast and 9 AM on the west coast.)

- Who can participate?

All ANA Young Numismatists who have earned YN dollars.

- Are YN dollars the only way auction items can be paid for?

Yes.

- Do I need to register for the auction?

Yes, information about how to register will appear on Money.org.

- How will I know what items are in the auction?

The auction catalog is now online at Money.org. In addition, we've also created a Pinterest board with all 100 auction lots.

As you can see, more information will become available shortly. In the meantime, you should send in your YN dollar submissions. All submissions must be received by Monday, September 7th. Should you have questions about how to earn YN dollars or how to send a submission for them, please follow this link.

Regards,

Rod Gillis

Education Director

American Numismatic Association