ANA Announces E-Sylum Collaboration

In an effort to provide its members with an additional source of hobby-related news, the American Numismatic Association (ANA) is pleased to announce its collaboration with Numismatic Bibliomania Society (NBS), producer of The E-Sylum weekly online newsletter. Beginning June 21, ANA members will receive the weekly eNewsletter. The bulletin offers reports of coins, medals, tokens, and numismatic literature.

“Each week I eagerly await the next edition of The E-Sylum,” says ANA President Jeff Garrett. “I believe members of the ANA will enjoy The E-Sylum as much as I do, and I’m thrilled that we have developed a collaboration that will make this a reality.”

With readers and contributors around the world, The E-Sylum is a clearinghouse for news and information about a wide range of numismatic topics. Content presented in The E-Sylum is not necessarily researched or independently fact-checked, and views expressed do not represent those of the ANA.

“The E-Sylum has been likened to a weekly cocktail party attended by the top collectors and researchers in the world,” says E-Sylum editor Wayne Homren. “The eNewsletter covers a range of topics, and I think most readers will find something of interest in every issue.”

About NBS and ANA

The Numismatic Bibliomania Society is an educational organization founded in 1979 to support and promote the use and collecting of numismatic literature, to include books, periodicals, catalogs and other written or printed material relating to coins, medals, tokens and paper money—ancient or modern, U.S. or worldwide.

The American Numismatic Association is a congressionally chartered, nonprofit educational organization dedicated to encouraging the study and collection of coins and related items. The ANA helps its 25,000 members and the public discover and explore the world of money through its array of instructional and outreach programs, as well as its museum, library, publications and conventions.
