

ANA SUMMER SEMINAR CATALOG IS NOW AVAILABLE ON-LINE

The course catalog for the American Numismatic Association's (ANA) 33rd Annual Summer Seminar, June 30 to July 13, 2001, is available on the ANA's web site, www.money.org/sumsem2001.html.

"Interest continues to grow in our two-week Summer Seminar here at ANA's headquarters on The Colorado College (CC) campus in Colorado Springs," Education Director Gail Baker says. "In order to reach renewing and prospective students, we decided to publish our entire 32-course catalog on the ANA's web site, as well as mail it to our members. The on-line catalog offers easy access to course descriptions, instructors, special classes and events, and even a link to the CC campus, where most of our classes are held. Interested students also can download a registration form.

"We expect demand for classes to be high again this year, so the seminar is split into two, one-week sessions. Each session will offer 16 classes, covering every topic from ancient coins to designing web pages. Twelve new classes will be offered this year, with three classes geared to non-numismatists."

ANA Summer Seminar students can attend one class from either session, or stay both weeks and select one class per session. Between the sessions, the ANA has planned:

- An overnight trip (July 6-7) to historic Taos, New Mexico, where Native American, European and cowboy influences provide an enchanting atmosphere. Participants will partake of a fabulous, five-course "chef's tasting" dinner at the famous Doc Martin's Restaurant. (Cost of the two-day trip, including lodging, is $95 per person for two-session students and $195 for students taking classes in one session only.)
- A full-day field trip (July 6) to the United States Air Force Academy, and Western Museum of Mining and Industry, including a picnic in the Garden of the Gods park. (The trip is free for students taking classes in both sessions; all others pay $65 per person.)

The ANA also will offer an optional numismatic field trip (July 13) to Denver, including a private floor tour of the United States Mint.

In addition to the courses, evening bull sessions and tours, the ANA Summer Seminar 2001 will offer six, hands-on, mini-seminars that will be taught in two or three evening-long sessions. These classes will allow students the opportunity to study more than one area of interest or survey a previously unexplored topic. They mini-seminars include:

- "Byzantine Coinage" with Chris Connell
- "Coins of the Ancient Roman Empire" with ANA Museum Curator Robert W. Hoge
- "Detection of Counterfeit and Altered Coins" with Mary Sauvain
- "Early American Copper Coinage" with Douglas F. Bird & Steve Carr
- "Grading Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes, Walking Liberty Half Dollars and Morgan Dollars" with Bill Fivaz

- "World War II Numismatics" with Joe Boling

The cost of tuition, meals and dormitory accommodations at The Colorado College remains a bargain: $510 for double accommodations, or $610 for a private room. Off-campus housing packages also are available at reduced, group rates. The fee for mini-seminars is $35 per class. Scholarships and financial aid are available.

"Browse the list of classes and instructors for each session on our web site or contact the ANA Education Department for a brochure with complete details," Baker says. "Classes fill quickly, so don't be disappointed. Reserve your choice now!"
