Heritage Executives Donate $15,000 for ANA Education Programs

Heritage Auction Galleries President Greg Rohan and Co-Chairmen Steve Ivy and Jim Halperin donated $15,000 in support of educational initiatives offered by the American Numismatic Association. Rohan, Ivy and Halperin each presented personal checks in the amount of $5,000 on behalf of Heritage to ANA Executive Director Larry Shepherd on Sept. 20 at the Long Beach (Calif.) Coin, Stamp & Collectible Expo.

"We are thrilled that the top officers at Heritage have once again come forward in support of our educational mission," Shepherd said. "This generous donation will help fund programs such as Summer Seminar, Coins in the Classroom, and classes offered across the country through our School of Numismatics."

In a joint statement, Rohan, Ivy and Halperin said: "The ANA is the foremost, fundamental resource for our hobby. We are proud to be lifetime members, we support the ANA's important education mission and we encourage all members to contribute whatever they can to assist the Association."

Heritage Auction Galleries is based in Dallas, and is the world's largest collectible auctioneer. The company is a longtime supporter of ANA educational efforts. For more information, visit www.HA.com.

The American Numismatic Association is a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to encouraging people to study and collect money and related items. The ANA helps its 32,000 members and the public discover and explore the world of money through its vast array of education and outreach programs, as well as its museum, library, publications, conventions and seminars.
