American Numismatic Association Announces Membership Dues Increase

Effective November 1, membership pricing update sustains association services, education, outreach

The American Numismatic Association (ANA) has purposely kept its membership dues as low as possible to remain affordable for collectors of all means. But inflation over the last few years has compelled the ANA Board of Governors to increase association membership dues, taking effect November 1, 2026.

Membership renewals enable the ANA to invest in the future of the hobby with new technology and expanding educational programs. The association serves collectors, the general public, and academic communities, and memberships ensure the ANA's programs and outreach remain top-notch.

"It's vital that our organization provide a wide-ranging variety of resources, tools, and services to our members," said ANA Executive Director Kim Kiick. "We work hard to keep our membership dues as low as possible, but every now and then, these necessary adjustments allow us to maintain services and programs you deservedly expect."

Pricing Tiers & Updates

Several tiers of ANA membership exist to provide flexible spending options for collectors. Platinum members receive the printed edition of The Numismatist (with the higher cost covering printing and mailing), digital access to the magazine, and access to the publication's digital archive (1888-present). Gold members receive the digital-only edition of The Numismatist and the full digital archive.

ANA Membership Benefits

All ANA members receive the following benefits when they join:

- Twelve issues of the ANA's award-winning, informative monthly magazine, The Numismatist, packed full of articles and features written by leading numismatic experts covering all facets of the hobby.
- Access to The Numismatist digital archives, going back as far as 1888 when the magazine was first published, for research and exploration purposes.
- Free admission to two annual ANA conventions, the National Money Show® and the World's Fair of Money®, the latter being one of the largest coin shows of the year.

- Free book and manuscript loans from the ANA's Dwight N. Manley Numismatic Library, the world's largest numismatic lending library, with more than 128,000 books, auction catalogs, periodicals, and educational DVDs.
- Exclusive discounts on ANA traveling or technical seminars and monthly Money Museum auctions, collection insurance through Brown & Brown Insurance, and a discount on the first year of membership with Numismatic Guaranty Company (NGC) and Paper Money Guaranty (PMG).
- Free admission to the association's Edward C. Rochette Money Museum at ANA headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.
- Access to the members-only Facebook group for community sharing and discussions about research, personal collections, club news, questions, upcoming shows, and more.
- Enrollment access to the Numismatic Diploma Program, providing individuals the opportunity to earn a "Numismatic Scholar" certificate by completing a series of online courses.
- Enrollment access to attend Summer Seminar in Colorado Springs, an annual two-week event that provides numismatic learning and camaraderie through a varied selection of week-long courses designed for discovery or continued study of money.

"Membership support also guarantees ANA outreach continues even to those who may not have the means to join, or who are just discovering the world of money for the first time," said Kiick.

Membership dues also contribute to ANA's free programming, including:

- The Reading Room, designed for digitally minded hobbyists, includes exclusive columns, features, news stories, and audio recordings of articles for listening on-the-go.
- Expert-led courses with Aristotle's Vault, NumismaTalks, and extensive educational activities and programs for young collectors.
- Access to Money Museum exhibits and the museum's online collection (including pieces not currently on display), valuable coin collecting tips and tools, and a wealth of numismatic content including videos, blogs, and podcasts to help guide and inform all levels of collectors.
- Social media outreach efforts aimed at building community and connections through Facebook, X, LinkedIn, Instagram, Reddit, and through engaging and educational videos on YouTube.
